

Integration of Faith and Learning

By Rick Langer, Director of Integration of Faith and Learning

Biola University

In this series of short You Tube videos, Rick Langer presents a Conversational Model to integration of faith and learning. What does faith integration look like? Theodore Zeiden notes that, "Conversation is a meeting of minds with different memories and habits. When minds meet, they don't just exchange facts; they transform them, reshape them, draw different implications from them, and engage in new trains of thought. Conversation doesn't just reshuffle the cards, it creates new cards." This approach to faith integration may provide new insights into ways you teach your respective discipline.
